

Jennifer Bloome

Soul - Abundance Guide

Money Languages: Your First Step to Soul-Abundance

Imagine how your experience with money would change if you:

- Trusted your own inner knowing / wisdom about creating money.
- Knew your Soul's special talents regarding money.
- Had a soul team you could consult about money and abundance.
- Knew the vibration that would align you perfectly with abundance.
- Understood your Soul's mission.
- Could ask questions of (and receive answers from) your Soul.
- Expected the unlimited resources of Source (God, Universe, Goddess, Divine, Nature) to flow through your experience.
- Fully embodied the worthiness of your Being.

When you know how to translate the wisdom of your Soul and you speak the language of your Soul's Abundance, you create a steady flow of money and abundance that is in direct alignment with your gifts, talents, and natural abilities.

Knowing your Money Languages gives you the translation tool you need to understand and communicate directly with your Soul about how it prefers to work with money.

Your Soul's Wisdom About Money Comes from Two Aspects

Personal Soul Languages

These languages represent your mission here on the planet, the skills, and tools to help bring that mission to fruition, and your soulful personality. Each of these languages have preferences about how to interact with money.

They also each have "tells" around money that will help you understand if you aren't in conscious connection with them.

Knowing these languages will give you a powerful tool, and information about your particular strand of the divine. And knowing that, along with having this tool, allows you to speak the language of your own personal soul-based abundance.

Sacred Partnership with Money Languages

Each of us has an “advisory board,” if you will, of three soul languages that are here specifically to assist you in creating money.

This soul-based support team will guide you to both internal and external action steps that will allow you to express your Soul Abundance.

Both your Personal and Sacred Partnership with Money Languages are dynamic pieces of your Soul that you can communicate with on a daily basis. The more you communicate with them, the easier it becomes to have a flow of Soul Abundance in your daily life.

Curious about how this works in your own life? Schedule a Free Money Language Translation Session with Jennifer.

